Just a few metres from the swimming pools of Almonacid de la Cuba, which we leave behind, we find a path descending to the right of the Fintiruuela spring and we enter a meadow where Mediterranean hackberry, once used to make hayforks predominates.

We find the stream of Barcalén amongst market gardens, which we follow until it meets the River Aguasvivas, which we easily cross. We then continue through a terrace of skeleton-like almond trees.

Taking care, now and again we may look down to the river carving it way through the limestone.

When the path thins and we begin to see the sculpting of the River we may see the spouting turbulence within the abyss.

We quickly descend contemplating the waterfall and pool. We cross to the other side to ascend towards Tercón house. Following the ample path along the ditch of Belchite and its crossings.

Once we see the irrigation pond, which leads us to the river and whose reeds are the home to ducks, we are near to the pillars of the old Utrillas railroad viaduct. Leaving them behind we arrive at Belchite via the old rail tracks now converted into our route.

MOST OF THE ROUTE FOLLOWS THE UPPER BANK OF THE RIVER. ONCE IN BELCHITE ONE CAN CONTEMPLATE OTHER ATTRACTIONS SUCH AS THE ETHNOLOGICAL MUSEUM OF THE EBRO VALLEY, AN EXCEPTIONAL PLACE TO BUY HIGH QUALITY OLIVE OIL.

In Moyuela we take the street next to the XVIII century fountain, in Capitan Godoy Street. We cross the road take the first left to the cellars, carved from the earth, towards the Moyuela River bed, which laps the recently abandoned cave-homes of Valtierra.

A short distance along, the river Seco and Santa Maria meet near to the centenary holm oak of La Bomba.

We retake the River Seco route and continue along the River Moyuela, which meanders as it passes below the Blesa road bridge. We leave Capitán Godoy Street and turn towards the San Clemente hermitage. Behind the school we arrive at Santa María de Allende (XII-XIII century). Which we pass by and take the agricultural path forming a balcony above market gardens to Santa María, its route draws a line of poplars. Afterwards we have a beautiful view of the Valtierra caves.

Next to the mill we find poultry farm with two metal silos and we return along the same route until the San Clemente hermitage.

In front of which there is a typical stone building, recently restored, once used to store snow.

We take the path, in front of the crossing, which descends to the right towards Puente Viejo.

Down stream we admire a Jurassic carved rock face. We find a subterranean entrance to the snow hut after the watering hole, in front of which we cross the river and in a quarter of an hour we find the remains of the Molino Bajo. It is still possible to make out the canal system's entrances and exits. On the other side of the river one can find another mill-pond, the mill long gone.

We return to the base of the snow hut and follow on to the beautiful Las Almas landmark that overlooks the parting of the Belchite and Azuara ways. We take the right and in little more than fifteen minutes we arrive at the San Gregorio landmark to our left. Then, half an hour later the La Malena landmark, near the «Remanao de Agua», the trough through which water was guided. Shortly we find a pond that gives a natural spring next to the La Malena hermitage. In the area there is a pleasant, small pine-wood, next to the ruins of a late-Roman village called «Casales de la Malena» Moorish quarter by the locals.

THE COSY VILLAGE OF MOYUELA OFFERS AN UNDISCOVERED ARTISTIC AND CULTURAL ETHNOLOGICAL HERITAGE IN ITS HERMITAGES. THE RIVER DRAWS A POSSIBLE ITINERARY, WHICH MAY BE DONE, ON FOOT, BICYCLE OR BY CAR ALONG ITS NUMEROUS POINTS OF INTEREST. FOR LOVERS OF THE MUDEJAR STYLE THERE ARE SOME MAGNIFICENT EXAMPLES SUCH THE PARISH CHURCH.

In Villanueva we stock up on drinking water at the Fountain of the Rueda, on the right bank of the River Huerva next to the Belchite road, with a beautiful late-medieval bridge. Along the Calvary route, behind the three crosses, we take the path, which carries us to San Vicente hermitage upon the hill of the same name. From here we have a beautiful panorama of the locality and the River Huerva feeding its waters to the market gardens. In front of us a beautiful autochthonous pinewood and in the distance the silhouette of San Pablo hill overlooks the scene.

We take a wide path and pass next to a strategic position to our left before arriving at the Fuen-detodos-Belchite road.

We follow the road for around half a kilometre. Another path to the left allows us to enter a farm (La Venta), after which we may contemplate an imposing ice hut.

Carrying on in the same direction we start to descend to the left and take the second crossing to the right towards the majestic and singular holm oak pine known as Pino Pindera.

THIS SIMPLE ITINERARY ALLOWS US TO FOLLOW VILLANUEVA'S POINTS OF INTEREST. THE MOUND OF THE SAN VICENTE HERMITAGE, FROM WHERE THERE IS A BEAUTIFUL PANORAMA OF THE RIVER HUERVA WHICH WATERS THE LOCAL LAND, THE ICE HUT NEXT TO THE OLD INN; THE SINGULAR PINDERA PINE, AND THE OLD MILL. VILLANUEVA OFFERS ATTRACTIVE ALTERNATIVES SUCH AS THE SAN PABLO HILL ASCENT; THE SUMMER GORGE ROUTE ALONG THE RIVER HUERVA IN THE LOS CALDERONES AREA TOWARDS EL BAÑO; PLEASANT WALKS THROUGH THE AUTOCHTHONOUS PINEWOODS OR A VISIT THE DINOSAURS' FOOTPRINTS, UNIQUE IN THE ZARAGOZA PROVINCE.

From here we may return directly to Villanueva or from the plains take the Manadero route to look over the cliff of the gorge to a panoramic Huerva River view which hides the Molino Viejo (Old mill). Going down towards the footbridge across the river we pass next to a mill and rise to the Muel road, which we take on the left to return to the village.

VALHONDO DE ALADRÉN RAVINE

- Duration
Around four hours (round trip).
- Itinerary
Non-signposted.
- Precautions
Ask the locals about how to approach the ravine. If the season has been rainy or it has rained recently we encounter some pools, so we should carry the appropriate equipment.
- Difficulty
None.
- Recommended time of the year
Carry drinking water. Travel in company or let someone know your route and expected time of return. Travel prepared for pools, avoid the route on rainy days and return if facing a storm.

Going up from Paniza once at Aladrén at the curve that enters the village we take a route that descends to the left of the road towards the ravine, usually dry, which gives its name to the village. After crossing, one continues across farmlands on the right side at first, on occasions passing to the other side. When the path starts an ascent to the right we turn off. We cross a ditch towards a small hut next to a walnut tree and the surreal image of an abandoned land as the fence is made up of mattresses. This is the entrance point to the Valhondo ravine.

Most of the itinerary takes place along the dry stony riverbed of the ravine. On the riverbank gorse, rockrose, thyme, rosemary and white flax lends a spring colouring along with the hawthorn, some Montpellier maples, junipers and holm oaks.

At the end of the itinerary the walls of the ravine can be spanned with open arms.

 THE SPECTACULAR PASSES OF THE RIVER HUERVA STILL HIDE UNKNOWN CORNERS SUCH AS THE ALADRÉN NARROWING WHERE THE WATER HAS WORN AWAY THE LIMESTONE OPENING A PASS TO THE RIVER HUERVA. THERE ARE TWO VERY DIFFERENT STRETCHES, THE FIRST WITHOUT DIFFICULTY PASSES THROUGH A SMALL GORGE ALONG WHICH IT IS POSSIBLE TO SEE AT THE STEEPEST POINT, MOUNTAIN GOATS. THE SECOND, MORE BEAUTIFUL AND SHORTER, IS A LITTLE MORE THAN 200 HUNDRED METRES BETWEEN THE NARROW ROCK.

In Villafeliche we walk towards the lowlands taking the first street on the right from the Town Hall. We find information that will guide our route parallel to the river.

We cross the ravine that crosses the village. Said path finishes next to the hermitage where again signs indicate the direction to follow, now we continue amongst fruit trees until arriving at the parking zone.

We cross the bridge next to the flour mill and find an information board on the origin of the Royal Factory Gunpowder mills.

Up stream our itinerary continues passing below the old Calatayud-Caminreal-Valencia railroad then turns into a small path from which we see the restored gunpowder mill. Having asked for the key we may enter finding a reconstruction of principal pieces and informative panels on the importance of the valley, the production of gunpowder and the events of the industry through its 400 years.

We may still continue along the path that brought us and enter a valley, which narrows little by little, its terraces well organised offer tasty food. The return is along the same route and time permitting we may walk around the village and go up the Calvary route which ends snaking around the hill with a strong slope along its one kilometre with the pleasure of admiring the beautiful Villafeliche panorama.

A SHORT DISTANCE FROM VILLAFELICHE, THE RIVER JILOCA FITS IN THE NARROW VALLEY THAT BRINGS TOGETHER IDEAL CHARACTERISTICS FOR THE PROLIFERATION OF MANY GUNPOWDER MILLS, AT ONE TIME NEARLY 200 FROM THE XVI CENTURY UNTIL THE MIDDLE OF THE XX CENTURY, THEY MADE UP THE ROYAL GUNPOWDER FACTORIES OF VILLAFELICHE. SULPHUR WAS NOT PRODUCED AS IT WAS BROUGHT FROM LIBROS' MINES IN TERUEL. HERE EVERYTHING NEEDED FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF GUNPOWDER WAS TO BE FOUND: PROTECTION FROM THE WIND IN A CLOSED VALLEY, A NEARBY SOURCE OF SALTPETRE, LOWLAND HEMP FOR ITS TRANSFORMATION INTO VEGETABLE CARBON, WICKS AND A PERMANENT FLOW PROVIDING A CURRENT FOR THE MILLS WHEEL COMPLETED THE LIST OF REQUISITES.
